

FAITH AT WORK: A CURRICULUM FOR LOCAL CHURCHES

Do you wonder about how to help your people practice their faith at work?
Are you looking for ways to equip Christians for mission in the workplace?
Do your congregants feel a desire for deeper connection with God at work?

Faith at Work is a live workshop course for local churches. It can be integrated into a Sunday school plan, used as a small group curriculum, or hosted as a standalone series. At each meeting, course participants talk, pray, and learn together about faith at work.

Mission Central Team Leader Chris Easley helps each congregation customize Faith and Work for their context, up to and including personally facilitating or co-facilitating workshop sessions.
